Dear BPIP Colleagues

It is with great pleasure that we can announce that from January 2022 we will have a new BPIP Chair and Secretary.

Chris Harrison, Head of IP Analytics and Data Insights at UK Intellectual Property Office, will take on the role of BPIP Chair from Nathan Pennington, and Kathy Burrows, Patent Intelligence Analyst at Reckitt, will take on the BPIP Secretary role from Jeanette Eldridge.

Handovers have begun, and although we do not foresee any issues with someone from UKIPO chairing BPIP, if any members do have any concerns or questions regarding a UK government official chairing this group, then please do let us know so that these can be addressed.

A number of developments will be introduced in the New Year, including an BPIP email account for future communications, rather than relying on personal or work-related email addresses; in the meantime, emails can still be sent to jeanette.eldridge@outlook.com for forwarding to our new Chair and Secretary.

Regards

Nathan Pennington
